@LISSSHY

As a young girl, I wanted to see more female representation across the gaming and tech worlds. I wanted someone I could look up to and aspire to be like. I realised that there weren't many females in the industry, so I decided to make it my mission to one day, become of those women that I always wanted to see.

My mission statement is:

"To provide education and entertainment across the gaming and tech industry."

Liessshy has worked as a content creator for 8 years across social media platforms Instagram, YouTube, Twitter and TikTok.

She has collaborated with many brands in her time, notably being the face of JBL Quantum in ANZ and an Elgato Partner.

She is a co-host of the Confessions of a Gamer Girl podcast and a content writer for Quest Daily.

Some of the brands she has worked with are below.
